

Offering two raka'hs after performing ablution:

It is from the daily Sunnah that has great reward which is paradise. Abu Hurairah τ reported that the Prophet ρ said, "Bilal, tell me which act you did for which you hope to receive good reward, for I heard during the night the sound of your footsteps before me in Paradise?" Bilal τ replied: "I did not do any act in Islam for which I hope to get any benefit, but this, that when I perform complete ablution during the night or day I then offer prayer with that purification, what Allah has ordained for me to pray."
